We desire to call attention to the note of the Hon. Thos. Williams, correcting the published abstract of his speech at the meeting in City Hall in some important particulars.

DESPICABLE.

The New York Times, the paper in which the garbled telegram from General Sheridan was originally published, has a long article on the subject of the late murderous affair in New Orleans, in which the editor labors to throw the blame, as much as possible, upon the members of the Convention and the poor negroes. Speaking of the origin of the affair, and of the question as to the party who fired the first shot, it remarks:

"By whom matters little, seeing that according to Sheridan both sides had now become so excited that their relative violence could not be readily distinguished."

"Relative violence" indeed! As well talk of the relative violence existing between a pack of wolves and a flock of sheep. The display of a white flag at a window of the Institute, the token of surrender on the part of the members of the Convention, was the signal to the Thugs, who constituted the Mayor's police, to rush in and open an indiscriminate and murderous fire upon all within the building, both white and colored. This fact is clearly and fully proven; and there is no evidence, whatever, that any of the assailing party were either killed or wounded, or that the negroes made any attempt upon the life of any of them, even in self-defence. Gen. Sheridan in his last report to the President, says that not more than one in ten of them were armed even with pistols, and, so far as the evidence goes, they did not attempt to fight with the police at all. And yet, in the face of all these well attested facts, the Times, in order to screen its master and his pet, the pardoned rebel Munroe, from public indignation, has the effrontery to talk about "relative violence!" It is but following up in a fitting manner its own atrocity in the matter of the publication of the garbled dispatch. And why did it tamper with that dispatch? Because the master it serves required it to be done, if, indeed, he did not do it himself.

"According to Sheridan," says the Times. In none of Sheridan's dispatches is there any such idea conveyed. These words are as mendacious as was the act of garbling the dispatch. But a journal that [illegible] itself to serve such a master, and [illegible] such a cause, must necessarily [illegible] corresponding depth of depravity and degradation.

THE ISSUE IN A NUT-SHELL.

The President and his followers wish to bring the rebel States back into the Union unconditionally, just as they are—without a single guarantee that they will not secede again whenever they feel themselves able to do so—with the Constitution unaltered, so that they shall be entitled to a large representation in Congress based upon millions of disfranchised negroes—with no security, except loose promises, against the acknowledgment and payment of the debts contracted for the prosecution of hostilities against the Government—and with no guarantee that the rights and liberties of the emancipated but yet disfranchised class shall be respected. Under his policy there is nothing to prevent the return of a solid delegation of active, bitter, unrepentant rebels from the entire South to the National Legislature.

Congress, supported by the great Union Republican party, on the other hand, submit an amendment to the National Constitution as its basis of reconstruction, with conditions more moderate, gentle and magnanimous than were ever before offered to a set of vanquished rebels—conditions which the people of the South would have gladly accepted but for the persistent encouragement that Andrew Johnson has given them to stick to their rebellious principles, and but for the oft-repeated invitation he has given to them to unite with him in crushing the party which crushed the rebellion, and as far as possible to render loyalty to the Union odious.

It has been thought probable that in the Eleventh Congressional district of Pennsylvania, Mr. Henry A. Mott, formerly Canal Commissioner and State Senator, would get the Democratic nomination. Such is not to be the case. On Saturday last the delegate elections were held in Pike county, and Mr. Mott was handsomely distanced by Mr. Vanauken, a lawyer of Milford. The candidate of right belongs to Pike; but there are apprehensions that the lower counties, having the numerical strength, will disregard the equities, and take the nomination for one of their men. Mr. E. W. Hutter, the editor of the Easton Argus, is spoken of as likely to be the favorite in the contingency. As this is the banner county of the Democracy, slight or even considerable schisms in the party do not peril the success of nominees.

In the published list of Vice Presidents at the late meeting of the "Conservatives," as they call themselves, at the City Hall on Monday evening, we observed the names of Gen. Gallupe, Wm. J. Richardson and A. W. Watson, and as one of the Secretaries the name of Capt. Augustus Braun. These gentlemen are all sound Republicans, and the gentlemen who engineered that meeting had no right to use their names in any such connection.

"Traitors must take back-seats," said Andrew Johnson when he was inaugurated, and he was praised on all sides by loyal men. "Traitors may take back-seats," says the President now, and he is lauded by all rebels and Copperheads.

The President is now carrying "My Policy" to the grave-yard. We trust he will bury it there, but fear the noble Douglas could not rest in peace with so much corruption at his side.

Andrew Johnson has declared treason to be the highest crime known to the laws. He seems logically to conclude that it is so high that the laws cannot reach it.

In Bradford county the open affiliation of Mr. Tracy with the Democrats has been a piece of good luck to the Republicans. They are rid of annoyance.

Distinguished Visitor.
Queen Emma, of the Sandwich Islands, with her retinue and attendants, arrived in Gettysburg in a special car at one o'clock yesterday. She is accompanied by Miss Spurgeon, an English lady, Mr. Edmonds, her Charge D'Affairs at New York, and Major Hopkins, her Minister. She is about thirty years of age, and a widow. She has a dignified appearance, is of sable complexion, and is said to be quite intelligent. Her unexpected arrival created quite a sensation. In the afternoon the party visited the battle-field, and in the evening the Queen was called upon by the elite of the town at the Eagle Hotel. After seeing Niagara she will leave direct for Pittsburgh, for the purpose of buying a supply of boots, shoes and gaiters, from the celebrated cheap establishment of Robinson & Co.'s, 61 Market street.

The Reasons Why Hostetter's Stomach Bitters Should Have a Place in Every Home.
Because by invigorating the constitution and the frame they avert sickness.
Because (especially) their use prevents the atmospheric poison which produces epidemics from taking effect upon the system.
Because they cure indigestion, and impart unwonted vigor to the stomach.
Because they are the best appetizing medicine at present known.
Because they are the only preparation upon which persons of a bilious habit can safely rely to keep the liver in good order.
Because they tone and regulate the bowels, and invariably relieve them when constipated, without causing undue relaxation.
Because they strengthen the nerves, clear the brain, and cheer the animal spirits.
Because in case of an attack of spasms or billious colic they are the best thing that can be administered on the instant.
Because they combine the three properties of a tonic, an alterative and a nervine in their utmost purity and perfection.
Because they are a specific against Ague and Fever and all intermittents, and with all their potency as a preservative and a remedy, are as harmless as water from the mountain spring!

Important to Volunteer Naval Officers—Volunteer Officers in the Army to be Mustered Out.

Washington, D. C., August 29.—The following order has been issued from the Navy Department, August 25th, 1866. A board of naval officers of which Commodore S. A. Lee, is President, will meet at Hartford, Conn., on the 5th of September next, for the examination of Volunteer officers, who have served not less than two years in the navy, for admission into the regular service, in accordance with the provisions of the following sections of the act, to define and regulate the appointment of officers in the navy and for other purposes, approved July 25th, 1866.

All persons who are entitled to examination under the provisions of the foregoing act, and who wish to avail themselves of the privileges will at once notify the President of the Board by letter, addressed to Hartford, Conn., giving their own postoffice address. In due time they will receive from him in reply, a notification where to present themselves for examination. Those who fail to report at the time specified for them to do so, will forfeit all claims to precedence for examination.

(Signed) Gideon Welles,
Secretary of the Navy.

An order will be published by the Secretary of War in a day or two, it is expected, directing the honorable muster out of service on account of their services being no longer needed, of all the volunteer officers now in the army, including those on duty in the Freedmen's Bureau, and those doing Provost Marshals duty in the civil and military Departments.

Circular No. 24, dated Aug. 28, 1866, was issued from the War Department to-day, announcing that the premium of two dollars will hereafter not be paid any to recruit who presents himself for enlistment but to any citizen, non-commissioned officer or soldier for each accepted recruit that he may bring to the rendezvous. The Executive Committee of the Conservative Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention to meet at Cleveland, September 17th, have appointed William Prescott Smith, formerly superintendent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, to make arrangements for the transportation of the delegates and others desirous of attending. Railroad conductors, willing to make reductions of fare, will communicate with him at Baltimore.

The National Union Executive Committee, appointed by the Philadelphia Convention, met in this city by appointment to-day. There were present Hon. J. T. Crowell, of New Jersey, Chairman; Col. J. F. Babcock, of Connecticut; Gen. S. M. Zulich, of Pennsylvania; Gov. Thomas G. Pratt, of Maryland; Hon. J. G. Morton, of Illinois; Gov. W. L. Sharkey, of Mississippi.

The Committee was duly organized by the appointment of Gen. Zulich to be Recording Secretary, and the appointment of Committees for the operation of the campaigns in the States where elections are soon to come off. Another meeting of the Committee will be held in about two weeks.

Persons Leaving Louisiana—Mutiny of Canadian Volunteers—A Disguised Fenian Arrested.

Another Fenian arsenal had been discovered at Kilmalloch, in the county of Limerick. Considerable ammunition was seized. Three respectable farmers in the neighborhood afterwards absconded.

The weather continued stormy in England. The harvest prospects were rather unsatisfactory.

Harvest accounts from France are also unsatisfactory.

It is stated that an important document on the cotton question has been submitted by Mr. Forbes, the Cotton Commissioner of the Indian Government, who was recently sent to visit the Cotton States of America, and after a tour through all of them, except Texas, now presents his returns. He estimates the probable yield of North and South Carolina at over 100,000 bales; Georgia, 150,000; Alabama, 200,000. As to the other States he speaks of the desolation of war and scarcity of labor as likely to reduce their production to 350,000 bales. His total estimate, including Texas, is not more than 1,000,000 bales, of which he thinks not more than 200,000 can be spared for exportation. Mr. Forbes does not lose sight of the higher estimates by respectable parties; but believes the crop prospects have deteriorated in prices since those estimates were formed.

The Czar had addressed an autograph letter to the King of Prussia, testifying to the friendly relations between the two States, and showing that Russia favorably entertains the overtures made by Prussia relative to the future reorganization of Germany.

A royal message upon the incorporation of Hanover, Electoral Hesse, Nassau and Frankfort and the Prussian Territory was laid before the Prussian Chamber of Deputies on the 17th. The preamble to the bill says: Prussia did not embark into war with the intention of acquiring territory. The hostile attitude of the States has required that their independence should cease. It is hoped that in the course of time the inhabitants of the annexed countries will be thoroughly satisfied with their incorporation. In bringing in the bill, Bismarck expressed the hope that the Diet would leave the details of accompaniments in the hands of the King who would act with the necessary consideration. Further communications with regard to Schleswig Holstein would be made after the conclusion of peace.

The King of Prussia on the 17th, received the Hanoverian deputation which solicited the annexation of Hanover to Prussia as soon as possible.

The Schleswig-Holstein government had received orders to prepare for the election of representatives to the German Parliament.

A split, it is reported, was about to take place in the progress party at Berlin.

The Austrian papers emphatically deny that after the withdrawal of the Italian troops from the Trent district, the Austrians wreaked vengeance on the inhabitants.

A few isolated arrests took place for treason in due legal cause. On the contrary it was asserted that parties who compromised in the district were being sent to Italian territory.

The Emperor Napoleon's fete day—on August 15th—was very brilliant, but was marred by a sad accident. After the fire works a crush occurred at the place De Laconicorde, in which nine persons were killed and fifty injured. The day was as usual marked by a large number of pardons and commutations of the sentences of military and other offenders; and also by honors conferred, including that of the grand cross of the legion of honor upon the Duc De Grammont, the French Ambassador at Vienna, and that of chevalier upon M. Gallignani, the director of Gallignanis' Messenger.

The Chalon's cafe was broken upon the 16th. Prince Napoleon and Gen. Monatrea had after at Paris from Italy.

The weekly returns of the Bank of France show a further increase of cash of over five millions of francs.

In the London money market the reduction of the bank rate from ten to eight per cent. was received with great satisfaction, and immediately had a favorable influence on all the markets. The demand for discount was heavy at the reduction.

Extensive Fire at Elmira, N. Y.

Elmira, N. Y., Aug. 29.—An extensive fire occurred here about two o'clock this morning, destroying an entire wooden block on the corner of Lake and Cross streets. Eight horses and a number of carriages were burned. The Court House and Jail, by the exertions of the firemen, were saved but badly scorched. The prisoners were not removed. Loss, $50,000 and but a small portion insured.

NATIONAL UNION COMMITTEE

Meeting Called by H. J. Raymond.

RAYMOND'S AUTHORITY REPUDIATED.

Another Call Issued.

IMPORTANT STATE PAPER.

Demand on England for Damages.

New York, August 29.—The following call appears in this day's Times:

"Rooms of the National Union Executive Committee, Astor House, New York, August, 25, 1866.—Dear Sir—A meeting of the National Union Executive Committee, appointed by the National Union Convention at Baltimore, in June, 1864, will be held at the Astor House, New York city, on Monday, September 3rd, at 12 o'clock, M.

Signed, H. J. Raymond, Chairman.
N. D. Sperry, Secretary.

The members who disapprove of the conduct of Mr. Raymond and of those members of the Committee who co-operate with him are evidently determined not to acknowledge their claims, as the following letter from Governor Ward, of New Jersey will show:

Hon. H. J. Raymond—Sir: A meeting of the National Union Committee appointed in June, 1864, has been called to meet at Philadelphia, on Monday, September 3d, and I shall be present on that occasion, taking part in its deliberation and action. You have deemed it wise and proper to abandon the Union Republican Party and to connect your name and influence with a new organization, designed to destroy and defeat the cause with which I sympathize and of which I am in some small degree a representative. Your public action has been such that I cannot acknowledge your right to use the title under which the meeting has been called, the nature and character of the trust confided to you and to me, forbid that we should use them except in accordance with the spirit in which they were conferred. So deep and wide spread is this feeling in the popular mind, that all who should respond to your call would be regarded as betraying the party they have ceased to represent.

With respect, yours, truly,
(Signed,) Marcus L. Ward.
Dated, Trenton, Aug. 28th, 1866.

Five of the members have issued the following call:

"The undersigned members of the Union Executive Committee appointed by the National Union Convention, held at Baltimore on the 7th of June, 1864, deem it expedient and proper that a meeting of said Committee be held at Philadelphia, on the third day of September, and most respectfully ask the attendance of their associates at that time and place. It is suggested that the State Central Committees fill all vacancies which may have occurred in said Committee. The nearness of the proposed time of meeting prevents our getting other names to this call.

(Signed), J. J. Coombs, District of Columbia.
H. W. Hoffman, Maryland,
J. S. Fowler, Tennessee,
John D. DeFrees, Indiana,
W. J. Cowing, Virginia,
Marcus L. Ward, New Jersey,
S. A. Purviance, Pennsylvania."

The following is a list of this Executive National Committee: Samuel F. Hussey, Maine; W. C. Claflin, Massachusetts; N. D. Sperry, Connecticut; Marcus L. Ward, New Hampshire, N. B. Smithers, Delaware; C. L. Robinson, Florida; J. M. Johnson, Arkansas; J. S. Fowler, Tennessee; General H. Senter, Ohio; B. C. Cooke, Illinois; W. J. Cowing, Virginia; D. B. There is a report from Washington that four days before Secretary Seward's departure for Chicago, with the President, were devoted to the preparation of an important state paper. I am not able to assert whether its promulgation will be immediate, or delayed until the return of the Executive trip. There is no doubt that the document in question, which is no less than a reiteration of the renewal of the demands of this Government for restitution at the hands of England for losses of American ship owners by the Anglo-Confederate pirates is conceived with unusual elaboration.

THE ELECTIONEER EXCURSION

Departure from Philadelphia and Arrival in New York—Reception Speech of Mayor Hoffman and Reply of President Johnson—What He Does and Says to Further "My Policy"—He is Afflicted by Emotions, and His Language Grows Inadequate as he Approaches the End of His Journey—Will there be Enough Left for Douglas?—Resolutions of the Albany Legislature.

Philadelphia, via Burlington, N. J., Aug. 29.—The Presidential party left this city at nine o'clock this morning. They were repeatedly cheered on the way to the cars.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 29.—Major General Meade and Major Emery have joined the excursionists also Major General Butterfield, who came to Philadelphia last night, as the representative of the citizens committee, of New York.

New York, August 29.—At Bordentown, Trenton, Newark and Jersey City, the President and party met with most cordial receptions. At Trenton and Newark brief speeches were made by the President of the Council, President Johnson and Secretary Seward. The President and party reached this city at one o'clock this afternoon, and were met at Pier No. 1 by the special committee of the Common Council, and escorted by a division of cavalry up Broadway to the City Hotel. Broadway was thronged with people, who enthusiastically welcomed the distinguished party. After arriving at the city hall the members of the Common Council and the heads of the departments were presented to the President by the Mayor, who delivered a formal address of welcome on behalf of the city. At the conclusion of these ceremonies the procession passed out of the park and proceeded to Fifth Avenue and Fourteenth street, where the military were to be reviewed. The procession was a large and imposing one.

At fifteen minutes to two o'clock, the President entered the City Hall, accompanied by Mayor Hoffman, amid the cheers and plaudits of the assembled multitude. The Mayor advanced to the centre of the room, where opposite the writing table of Washington, the Mayor addressed President Johnson as follows:

"Mr. President, In behalf of the municipal authorities and the citizens of New York, I cordially welcome you to this city, and to this Hall. The great men of the nation have in past times been received and welcomed here. The portraits of many of them surround you, soldiers, gentlemen and patriots, but none whose devotion to their country and the constitution is more distinguished than yours. In recognition of this fact the Common Council have adopted resolutions by an almost unanimous vote, which I shall have the honor to present to you, extending to you the freedom of the city, and expressing their confidence in your statesmanship and patriotism, and the citizens with great unanimity, have united with them in offering to you a reception which will be as enthusiastic as it will be acceptable. This popular demonstration is not from mere respect to your high office, but it is a tribute which the people offer to the fidelity, ability and patriotism, which have characterized your administration of the government. They recognize, and to some extent realize, the magnitude of the responsibilities which you have been called upon to assume, the embarrassments which have surrounded you, and the difficulties which have beset your way; and they honor you for the fearlessness you have manifested in battling for the union of the States, and the rights of the States against all enemies. The city of New York, which now greets you, has never faltered in its devotion to the Union and the Constitution, and it never will. It is the Metropolis of the country, and when it speaks, it does not speak in whispers or utter uncertain sounds. It speaks to-day, and I trust this great demonstration, in which capital and labor have both united, will cheer your heart and strengthen your hands in the great work of peace and restoration in which you are engaged. I will detain you no longer. The people are impatient to greet you. Their actions will speak more eloquently than my words. I beg your acceptance of this engrossed copy of the resolutions of the Common Council, and with them extend to you the freedom and the hospitalities of the city. The remarks of the Mayor were frequently interrupted with applause."

The President, in a voice evidently affected by emotion, remarked as follows:

To make a reply to what you have just given utterance to, under the circumstance, would be more than I could undertake. I am overwhelmed at the reception you have accorded to me. (Applause.) Language is inadequate to gave expression to my feelings. I accepted your invitation, and I now beg you will, in return, accept my most sincere and heartfelt thanks. Such an invitation from this great metropolis ought to, and does encourage me in the faithful discharge of my duty. (Cheers.) It is peculiarly acceptable at this time, fresh as we are from the battle-field, but there is still a greater battle before us. (Cheers.) In reference to what I have done, it is before you, and it is for you to determine what my conduct has been. (Applause.)

In conclusion let silence speak for what I ought to say and what I intend to do. (Cheers.) In accepting these resolutions, accompanied by sentiments so gracefully uttered, I again return you my sincere thanks. At the conclusion of the President's remarks, he was greeted with three times three cheers. Loud calls were then made for Secretary Seward, who, advancing to the head of the table, said as follows: "I feel that I am at home and I thank you for the welcome you have extended to me. (Applause.) I feel that I am at home, and I thank you for the welcome you have extended to me. (Applause.) I feel more than that for I have brought with me to yours and my home the President of the United States, (Cheers,) united by the arms of our heroes by the virtue of our citizens and by the wisdom and energy of our Chief Magistrate. If anything is wanting it is the certificate which we look for at the coming polls to bear us out in our opinions that the United States should consist of thirty-five instead of twenty-five States. (Great applause.) In the city and State of New York the people should be faithful first to their views, then to their children and State, and then to the country. To this duty I adhere, and if persons were to interfere with me in faithfully carrying out this principle, I could overbalance them and still be faithful to the country." (Great cheering.)

After the address the Mayor presented the city officials and citizens, which continued for about an hour.

The procession of the party up Broadway, was a magnificent ovation, and every available space was occupied by the assembled thousands; boquets were showered down by the hundreds. The cheers which greeted General Grant and Admiral Faragut, were especially noticeable. Arrived at Delmonico's the party reviewed the division of troops and the President was called upon to speak, but declined to make a speech, saying none was needed. After the demonstration which has been made to-day, I leave the Constitution and Union in your hands. The party was afterwards entertained at dinner by a few privileged citizens, which was continued until a late hour of the night. The party leaves at an early hour for West Point, riding through the Central Park and taking a special steamer at Manhattanville at one and a half o'clock, A. M.

Albany, Aug. 29.—In the Senate to-day, on motion of Mr. Lowe, the resolution appointing a committee to receive the President was reconsidered.

Mr. Lowe offered the following:

Whereas, The President of the United States, and our distinguished fellow citizens, General Grant and Admiral Farragut, are about to visit this State on their way to a sister State, to assist in laying the foundation of a monument to the memory of the late lamented statesman, Stephen A. Douglas; therefore,

Resolved, That the Senate, on behalf of the people of the State of New York, welcome the President of the United States, and General Grant, and Admiral Farragut, to our territory.

Mr. Thomas Murphy moved to include the name of William H. Seward. Lost; ayes: Collins, G. G. Cornell, Folger, Humphrey, Lent, H. C. Murphy, L. Murphey, Stanford—8. Nays: Bennett, Campbell, Gibson, Godard, Cline, Labeau, Lows, Sessions, White, Wilber, Williams, Walcott—12.

Mr. Folger offered the following as a substitute for the first resolution offered by Mr. Lowe:

Resolved, That the Senate do, on behalf of the people of New York, welcome His Excellency, the President of the United States, and the other distinguished personages accompanying him, to our territory. Carried.

Mr. Lowe offered the following:

"Resolved, That our distinguished fellow-citizens General Grant and Admiral Farragut, who are expected at the State Capitol to-morrow, be warmly welcomed to the soil of this State, by this Senate on behalf of the grateful people, who recognize their services, and appreciate their worth.

Mr. Murphy moved to include the name of William H. Seward. Lost.

The resolution was then adopted—ayes 16 nays 3.

Mr. Folger offered the following:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the Chair in accordance with the former resolution. Adopted.

The trial of Judge Smith was then proceeded with.

Mr. Waterman, counsel for the people, opened the argument.

The evidence on the part of the prosecution will be submitted in documentary form.

The directors of the New York Central Railroad met here to-day, and after adopting a series of obituary resolutions on the death of Dean Richmond, adjourned to take a special train to Batavia, to attend the funeral to-morrow.

Government Securities.

New York, August 29.—The Post's Washington special says: The officers of the Treasury Department are busily engaged in the conversion of Seven-Thirties into Five-Twenties, the recent advance of the latter in the foreign market having raised their value so much above the present high rate of Seven-Thirties that it is very advantageous to make the conversion. The idea of placing a five per cent. Government loan upon the market, which was abandoned some time ago, has been revived in consequence of the unprecedented rise in all classes of Government Securities. It is believed that the demand for our securities abroad will continue to increase.

Rhode Island Delegates to the Southern Union Convention.

Providence, R. I., August 29.—The National Union State Central Committee of Rhode Island met this morning and elected the following delegates to the Southern Union Convention: Maj. Gen. Burnside, Senators Anthony and Sprague, and Representatives Jenckes and Dixon, and Lt. Gov. Wm. Greene, Rev. Dr. Barnes Sears, President of Brown's University; Hon. James Y. Smith, Ex-Governor. Also five delegates from Providence county and three from each of the other counties of the state, were also appointed. These were selected from among the leading men of the State.

The Informality of the President's Reception at Philadelphia Explained.

Philadelphia, August 29.—In regard to the causes of the informality attending the President's visit to this city yesterday, the North American of to-day says: It is a noteworthy fact that, of the forty-six members of the Common Council, and the twenty-five members of the Select Council, less than twenty are at present in the city, and of these a considerable majority are democrats. The Mayor is taking the only rest that he can enjoy for a year to come, so that the absence of any municipal participation in yesterday's ceremonies was entirely unavoidable.

Philadelphia Republican Congressional Nominations.

Philadelphia, August 29.—The Republican Congressional Conventions of this city met to-day and nominated the following candidates: First District—Joseph R. Lyndall; Second District, Hon. Chas. O'Neill; Twenty-Third District, Hon. Leonard Myers; Fourth District, Hon. W. D. Kelly.

Funeral Services of Rev. J. W. Horton.

Boston, August 29.—Funeral services were held to-day in Tremont Temple over the remains of Rev. J. W. Horton, who was murdered during the late riot in New Orleans. There was a large attendance.

Official Vote in North Carolina—New Constitution Rejected.

Raleigh, (N. C.) August 29.—The official vote came in to-day. All the counties but Hayward are heard from. The new Constitution was rejected by 1,982 majority.

Cholera in New York.

New York, August 29.—Only three cases of cholera, one of which was fatal, were reported in this city to-day. Only two deaths are reported in Brooklyn to-day.

A Mixed Up Affair.

Conrad and Jacob Crisbinger are brothers. Conrad had a horse which he desired to dispose of at auction, and in order to get the highest price for it, he placed it in Jacob's hands to give to the auctioneer, so that he could bid on it. The horse was put up, and after several bids, was knocked down to Conrad for the sum of forty dollars. The auctioneer claimed his commission, which after some chaffering was paid him. Jake then sold the horse to Gottlieb Gimber for thirty-five dollars, the sale being a private one. Gimber put a halter around the horse's neck, and started up Penn street. In the meantime Conrad also sold the horse to John Lockner, of Birmingham, for forty dollars, who paid for him and started after Gottlieb. Coming up to the wagon, he drew a large knife and cut the halter, but being resisted by a brother of Gottlieb's, he also cut him in the hand very severely. Gottlieb then went before Esquire Donaldson and entered complaint, but before the warrant could be issued and served Conrad and Lockner had made themselves scarce, taking with them the horse. The unfortunate Jacob, who by the way was entirely innocent of any dishonest intention was arrested, and taken before the 'Squire, where the matter was settled, by Jake paying back the thirty-five dollars, and giving Gottlieb ten dollars extra, besides paying the costs of the suit.

Pocket Picked.—A bold and successful attempt at pocket picking was committed at Latrobe, on Friday evening last. Emanuel Marshall, a colored man from Stanton, was a passenger on the Express train, and in getting out of the cars at Latrobe was surrounded by three or four persons, caught by the arms by some of them, whilst another forced his hand into his pants' pocket and took his pocket book, containing ninety-five dollars. He at once gave the alarm, but by some mismanagement the villains escaped. It is supposed that Marshall was followed from Pittsburgh by these men. It was certainly as bold an outrage as we have ever heard of, it being about six o'clock in the evening, and cars and station platform full of people.

New Music.—We have received from Mrs. Charlotte Blume a number of choice new music publications which are destined to become very popular. "Little Nell," an exquisite ballad; "Oh, Sing me to Sleep, Dear Father," is a very pretty song, the author giving, as Artemus Ward says, "the old man a chance;" "Annie's Reply to Enoch Arden," a beautiful song; "Flying Bird," an instrumental composition of rare merit and easy to be performed. For all the latest music call at Mrs. Blume's, Fifth street, near Wood.

Pity the Sorrows, &c.—Zaddock Bell, an old colored man, hailing from Pittsburg Landing, Tennessee, and who was in the army of the Department of Tennessee, where he was twice wounded, is in Allegheny. He worked his passage to that city, although suffering severely from his wounds and rheumatism. Any charitable persons who may wish to contribute to his comfort can do so by calling at the Mayor's office, Allegheny city.

Railroad Consolidation.—The Ohioville Railroad Company, of Ohio, and the Ohioville Railroad, of Pennsylvania, have been consolidated under the name of Island Run Railroad Company, and organized by electing J. W. Blanchard, President; C. O. Rourke, T. W. Williams, A. L. Crawford, H. Lee, A. H. Dohrman and C. K. Chamberlain, Directors; W. G. Darley, Chief Engineer; and W. Newell, Secretary and Treasurer.

Robbery.—Mr. Cohen's clothing store at Rochester, Pa., was entered a few nights since by thieves, who carried off a valuable lot of clothing. The clothing was afterwards recovered.

Sentenced to the Penitentiary.—William Norfolk and Henry Mahew were sentenced to the Penitentiary by Judge Chamberlain, of Washington, Pa., last week.

Hon. Thos. Williams's Speech.

We make room this morning for a more comprehensive report of Hon. Thomas Williams' speech at the opening of the Union Headquarters at City Hall, on Tuesday evening. It may be well to observe that our reporter furnished a fair report of the speech, but as our space was so contracted he was obliged to condense, and in so doing, lost the true meaning of Mr. Williams's language:

Local Reporter of the Gazette:

In your abstract of my remarks at the meeting in the City Hall last night there are some points of fact of a public nature, wherein I have been so greatly misunderstood, as to make it necessary for me, as a public man, to put myself right upon the record.

I am made to declare, for instance, that "as a member of the Judiciary Committee, I felt authorized to say—without breaking my faith—that there was abundant evidence in their hands to prove Jefferson Davis and Clement C. Clay guilty of complicity in the plot that culminated in the assassination of Mr. Lincoln."

What I did say was, that my position as a member of the Judiciary Committee gave me the opportunity of seeing the evidence, and although not at liberty to disclose what I know, because its effect might be to obstruct the course of public justice, I could at least venture to say this much, without a breach of confidence, that in my judgment it would turn out that there was not only evidence as declared by the President in his own Proclamation to warrant the arraignment of these men for complicity in that great crime, but enough to insure their conviction before any honest and impartial jury, and that evidence known, as I believed, to the President himself.

I am also made to say that "the Judiciary Committee have frequently attempted to bring these men to trial, but they were so hedged in by the machinations of the President, who never intended they should be punished, that all their efforts were futile." I said nothing of the sort.

What I did say was, that from the tone of the message, the President was obviously desirous, while deprecating military Commissions which could try offenses in violation of the usages of war, such as the assassination was, —that Congress should advise or direct the trial of these men for high treason only, under the Constitution and before a jury of accomplices, who would be sure to acquit—that with the same view, he had requested—not commanded—(as I am reported to have said)—the Chief Justice to hold a Court for that purpose—that failing in this, his papers and partizans had charged that Congress only was to blame for the delay, and that to meet and repel these charges a resolution was offered by Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, instructing the Judiciary Committee to inquire whether there was any defect in the law to prevent the trial, which called for a remedy at the hands of Congress, and also into the nature and effect of the evidence implicating Davis and others in the assassination—that a partial report had been made, to the effect that no additional legislation was required, while the residue of the case was still in the hands of the Committee to be passed upon at the next session of Congress. It was not the business of the Judiciary Committee or of Congress either, to bring these men to trial, and of course I did not say, and could not have said, that they had ever undertaken or attempted it.

I am also made to say that I had the testimony of hundreds of Southern men who declare that there could not be a jury got to convict Davis in any of the rebellious states, no matter what the character of the evidence.

What I did say, was, that I had myself put the question to the Attorney General whether a conviction for treason would in his judgment be practicable under such circumstances—that his answer was a negative one—and that the same testimony, corroborated by the opinion of every loyal Southern man I had talked with, would be found supported by the evidence of an immense array (I may have said hundreds) of witnesses taken before the Joint Committee on Reconstruction and published with their report.

I am also made to say that a dispensation from the obligation of the test oath was granted to Judge Patterson, the son-in-law of the President, under which he took his seat.

What I did say was that the Senate, knowing that he could not conscientiously take the oath or at best confessing it by their own action, had passed a bill to relieve him—somewhat in the nature of a Bull of Indulgence such as were issued by the Court of Rome at the period of the Reformation, but that the Union side of the House had voted it down with a single dissenting voice—that of Mr. Raymond—and that he was allowed to take the oath, and did take it notwithstanding this refusal.

I am also made to say that "I had recieved petitions asking me to move the impeachment of the President for usurping power and attempting to erect State Governments at his own personal dictation, subject only to his imperial will.

What I did say was that I had received petitions asking for the impeachment of the President, but had not yet presented them, but that, looking to his usurpation of legislative powers, and his impudent and unblushing avowal of a determination to employ all the patronage of the Government in carrying out his personal and private will, a thing which had been often done, but never before confessed, and remembering that when the question of the power of removal was debated in the Congress of 1789, in reply to the suggestion that it might at some future day be prostituted for just such purposes as these, it was answered, and generally agreed that this would be an impeachable offense. I for one would be prepared to vote, if not to move for an impeachment of the President at the next session, unless the people should save us that trouble by rendering their verdict of guilty—as I have no doubt they would do at the approaching elections—against the great criminal who was now on his trial before them.

Thos. Williams.

The Portland Fire

At a meeting at the office of the Mayor of this city, the undersigned was appointed treasurer of such funds as might be collected by the committees of the different wards, to aid the sufferers by the late great fire in Portland, Maine. Only one committee, that of the Second ward, Pittsburgh, reported and paid over the funds collected, viz: six hundred dollars. The credit of this is justly due to the exertions of Wm. N. Ogden, Esq. I am not apprised of any of the other committees having acted.

The sums which came into my hands and were transmitted to the Mayor of Portland, are as follows:

First—The contribution of Miller & Ricketson, of five hundred dollars, for which a separate acknowledgement was made and is in the possession of the generous donors.

Second—Collections by Rev. Henry D. Moore, amounting to	$510
Contribution through the Mayor	20
Collections by Second Ward Committee	600
	$1,130

Total, eleven hundred and thirty dollars. This money I remitted to the Mayor of Portland on the 20th inst., and received the following acknowledgment, all of which is submitted.

John Harper, Treasurer.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.

Mayor's Office,
Portland, August 25, 1866.

John Harper, Esq., Pittsburgh, Pa.—Dear Sir: I have the great pleasure to acknowledge the receipt of yours of 20th inst., enclosing check for eleven hundred and thirty dollars, ($1,130,) contributions in your city for the benefit of the sufferers by the late disastrous fire in this city. The generosity and liberality of your people towards us in this, the time of our misfortune, cannot but otherwise be held in grateful remembrance.

Yours truly,
Aug. E. Stevens, Mayor.

Ladies' Educational Association.

We once more direct the attention of our lady readers to the call for the meeting of the ladies of Pittsburgh and vicinity, for the purpose of organizing a Ladies' Educational Association. The call is a general one, and we hope the ladies of the city will make a general response to the call by turning out en masse. It is a movement that should have been made by our ladies long ago, but as it is never too late to do good, we can only urge our lady friends to move immediately in the matter, and that too with an earnestness that will be a precursor of success. Of the necessity of an association of this kind, or the numberless benefits that will arise from it, it is unnecessary for us to speak. The benefits are patent to every reflecting mind. The meeting will take place in the chapel of the Female College, at three o'clock this afternoon.

Poles Condemned.—The poles which have been furnished for the use of the Fire Alarm Telegraph have been condemned by that Committee. Mr. Hill has telegraphed to Messrs. Gamewell, Kennard & Co. to that effect, and the consequence is that the work will be delayed for a short time. The reason for condemning them is that they are crooked, and the citizens have therefore objected to their erection. After the telegraph is put in working order, the bell will be struck at the hours of six and twelve in the day and evening.

Vocal Music.—In another column will be found advertised lessons in vocal music by Mrs. Annie M. Sheib. In this community where this lady is so well known and justly esteemed for her high attainments under the best masters in vocal and instrumental music, and as a favorite in the best social circles, it is scarcely necessary to commend her, as also a very capable and successful teacher. We doubt not she will be gladly and liberally patronized.

Ho! for Philadelphia.—Doubtless a large delegation of citizens will leave this county to be present at the Philadelphia Convention. Persons wishing to attend will at once enroll their names at the Union Headquarters, City Hall, in order that the County Committee can be enabled to further their arrangements. Excursion tickets will be provided.

Union Meetings.—The Union Republicans of the 6th Ward will hold a public meeting to-night for the purpose of organizing a Geary club. General attention is requested. There will be a mass meeting of Union Republicans held to-night at New Texas, which will be addressed by Gen. Moorhead, R. B. Carnahan and other equally popular speakers.

Accidents.—A few days ago a little boy aged nine or ten years, named Louis Smith, connected with the Glass works in Bridgewater, had a fall and broke his arm.

At about the same time another boy, also residing in Bridgewater, named Lambright, aged about thirteen years fell from an apple tree, and broke his arm in the fall.

Killed.—Mr. Washington M. Brookover was instantly killed at Haynes & Black's coal bank, near Zanesville, on Monday last. He fell from the screen, a distance of twenty feet, one of the rods penetrating his body, and absolutely impaling him. When noticed, he was standing up perfectly dead, with the rod sticking in his body.

More Frost.—They have had sharp frosts out at Washington.

Mass Meeting at Irwin Station.

A large and enthusiastic Republican meeting was held at Irwin Station, Westmoreland county, on Monday evening last.

This place, together with the surrounding neighborhood, was formerly one of Senator Cowan's strongholds. At the time of his election the Republicans were jubilant at his success and felt confident that their interests were safe in his keeping. Now, since he has proved recreant to the cause of freedom and humanity, and has so basely betrayed the party that elevated him to the position he occupies, and which has enabled him to more efficiently serve the rebels than he otherwise could have done, he has not one friend among loyal, Union loving men.

The meeting was addressed ably and eloquently, by Hon. John Covode, the present candidate for Congress in the 21st District, and by Major A. M. Brown and Col. Thomas M. Bayne, of Pittsburgh. At the close of the speeches, the following resolutions were read and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we earnestly desire the States lately in rebellion, represented in Congress and restored to the full privileges of the Union as soon as they give satisfactory evidence of their loyalty.

Resolved, That the policy of the President is calculated to restore rebels to power, and to place loyal people at the mercy of those who endeavored to destroy the nation, and to his policy should be ascribed the present unsettled condition of the country.

Resolved, That to Congress as the law-making power of the nation, belongs the power to prescribe the terms on which rebellious States shall be restored to the Union, and we heartily endorse the Constitutional Amendment submitted by Congress, as just and yet merciful, and as eminently wise and well calculated to restore peace and perpetuate harmony, by retaining the powers of Government in the hands of loyal citizens.

Resolved, That in Hon. Jno. Covode, our candidate for Congress, we have a man of irreproachable character, unquestionable loyalty, and as a statesman, a man who has few equals. Four terms service as a member of our national Assembly clearly establishes his character as a tried and true representative.

Resolved, That in Major General John W. Geary, our candidate for Governor, we have a gallant and a brave soldier and a good statesman whom we can trust as Chief Executive of our State.

Resolved, That we commend our candidates for Legislative and county offices to the confidence and suffrages of legal voters.

Resolved, That we call upon all who have stood by the Government in the long and terrible war, to stand by the same principles now; and not to be misled by Executive patronage or the sophistries of office-seekers and those who have betrayed the confidence we have reposed in them.

The New Bell Tower.

We were shown yesterday evening at the office of Barr & Moser, architects, a plan of the tower about to be erected on the south side of the jail yard for the use of the Fire Alarm Telegraph and Bell. The tower will be built something after the plan of an ordinary oil derrick, but much stronger, and will be finished in rather better style. The foundations will be of stone, sunk three feet eight inches below the surface of the ground, and will extend fourteen inches above the grade, making the masonry four feet ten inches from the foundation to the sill. Each of these piers will be four feet broad at the bottom, and sixteen inches broad at the top, and will be built of four courses of stone, the top stones being dressed on all the exposed sides. Through the centre of these piers, will be built an iron anchor rod, 1½ inches in diameter. The sills will be of 14 by 16 inch timber, and will be twenty-six feet in length. The base of the tower from out to out will be twenty-five feet, two inches. The posts or uprights will be thirteen inches square at the bottom, and eight and a half inches square at the top, the taper being gradual. The top of the tower will be twelve feet eight inches square from out to out, and eighty feet [illegible] from out to out of the tenons, or eighty feet two inches between the shoulder on the sill, and the shoulder under the top plate. The top of the beam under the machine room floor will be sixty-five feet from the bottom of the sill. The machine room will be six feet seven inches high, and the space between the roof and the bell deck floor will be nine feet clear of the plate. The machine room will be closed in with vertical boards, the cracks being battened, and will be lighted by two windows of four lights each. This room will be reached by four flights of open stairs, with a small landing at the head of each flight. Access will be had to the bell deck by means of a neat step ladder through a trap door. The whole structure is to be neatly painted with lead and oil, and will be covered with a tin roof. It will be strengthened by strong iron rods, which will pass through cast iron washers. The contract for the erection of the tower was ready for signature last night, and if not signed then, will probably be signed to-day and the building of it proceed immediately.

The Crops.

The Meadville Republican thus speaks of the crops in Crawford county:

The oats crop of this county is one of the best ever grown, and with the exception of that portion injured slightly by the rainy season, has been harvested in good order.

Corn is looking well, and if no untimely frosts come to damage it, the crop will be unusually large and excellent. We never had a brighter promise for a splendid yield of corn.

Buckwheat is very rank, and has probably been injured slightly by the heavy rains. There is a large surface sown, and the crop from present indications, will be better than usual.

Potatoes are very abundant and of a superior quality. We hear of no "rot" yet. Most of the seed planted in this vicinity was brought from Michigan and other points at a distance, and the success attending the introduction of seed from other sections of the country may suggest some valuable hints to our farmers.

The present season has been very favorable to the successful growing of farm and garden products, and we shall hope to see a fine exhibition at the Fair of our County Agricultural Societies.

A Landlady Sues a Boarder.

Mary Crogan keeps a boarding house in the Fifth Ward, and some time since she afforded lodging to a certain John Mehan. Finally Mary presented her lodger with a bill for board due her, amounting to $11 50. He told her he had not the money then, but he would leave a suit of clothes in lieu of the money, until he could earn enough to pay her. To this she assented, and Mehan left in search of employment. He returned after an absence of three days and stated that he was working in Temperanceville, and if Mary would give him his clothing he would pay her in a few weeks. She did so, but months passed and John reappeared not. Fearing that his intention was to defraud her, she made oath before Alderman Taylor, charging him with false pretence. He was arrested and held for hearing.

Western University.

This highly prosperous institution, corner of Ross and Diamond streets, will commence its next term September 3d. The Commercial Department will be under the care of a gentleman possessing a thorough knowledge of book keeping. Students in this department will be instructed in spelling, composition, penmanship, aritmetic, and such other branches as they may choose. The Preparatory English Department has recently had a room fitted up, which for convenience, elegance and suitableness in all respects is unsurpassed. Students who desire it may join the classes in Gymnastics or Military Drill. Students in the Scientific and Collegiate classes will be thoroughly taught. There are now ten Professors in this institution, extensive apparatus, a large cabinet and two flourishing Literary Societies.

Robbery in the Eighth Ward

The residence of Mrs. Jane Wildemar, on Locust street, in the Eighth ward, was entered on Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, and robbed of a variety of cooking utensils, consisting of a coffee pot, two sauce-pans, a gridiron, a nutmeg grater, and a tea canister half filled with a superior quality of Young Hyson. The thieves effected an entrance through a window in the rear, which had been carelessly left open. In getting to the kitchen, from which they took the articles, they were forced to pass through a chamber in which Mrs. Wildemar and her daughter were sleeping. Strange to say nothing but the articles mentioned were taken, although there were articles of value lying within their reach.

Disorderly.—Andrew Jameson was before Justice Barker, yesterday, charged with disorderly conduct, on oath of his wife Mary Jane. The cause of the disorder was attributed by Mrs. Jameson to a heavy cargo of bad whisky that Andrew had taken aboard at several "gin mills" in the borough of East Birmingham. Andrew insisted he had only taken beer, but Mary Jane relying on the judgment of her nasal, organ said he had got drunk on the pure juice of the corn, or in other words—whisky. Andrew finally acknowledged the corn, and after promising to do better he was released, his better-half paying the costs.

City Mortality.—The following were the deaths in the city from August 19th to August 26th: Males, 11; females, 9. White, 19; colored, one. Total, 20. The diseases in the above cases were: Ulceration of nombleblity, enteric fever, consumption, flux, scarlet fever, constitutional debility, still born, chronic plerentis, variola, convulsions, premature birth, congestion of brain, one each; cholera morbus, two; cholera infantum, marasmus, three each.

Died.—Mr. D. Hawkins, formerly of this city, died a few days since of cholera at St. Louis. It is a painful duty to be called upon to notice the demise of any one we have known so intimately, but as in the present case, when our knowledge of the man has been cemented by long years of friendship, the task is doubly so. His death will be regretted by a large circle of friends in this city.

Railroad Accident.—On Tuesday night a young man by the name of Gordon, from Connecticut, was killed in attempting to jump upon a morning train of cars at Huntingdon. He is the fourth man who has been injured by the cars at or near that place, within four weeks, three of the victims having died.

Settled.—Robert Macklinn came to the office of Alderman Hunt yesterday, and made oath against Felix Garven, for surety of the peace. The matter was adjusted by Macklinn withdrawing the charge, and the defendant paying the costs.

Race Horses.—On dit that Dexter and Patchen will be in this city in a short time, for the purpose of having a race.

Tenth Ward Organization.—There will be a meeting of the Republicans of the Tenth ward, on Friday night, at [illegible] of Payne & Shafer, No. 165, Fifth street, for the purpose of effecting a ward organization for the campaign, making arrangements for a hall, and other matters. Let there be a full turn out.

Cows Killed.—The [illegible] P. M. train West on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad, Tuesday, ran into a squad of cattle on the track near Beaver, killing a cow belonging to Thomas McKinley, and wounding two or three others belonging to different citizens.

Held for a Hearing.—[illegible] Dougherty appeared before Alderman Taylor yesterday, and made oath against [illegible] Hughes, for assault and battery. The accused, who resides in Lawrenceville, was arrested and held for a hearing.

Penitentiary Birds.—[illegible] circumstances, tried at Greensburg, last week, and convicted of different grades of offense, were sent from that place to the Western Penitentiary on Tuesday.

A Mistake.—In our report of the meeting at City Hall, on Tuesday evening, we stated that the officers elected there were for the campaign. This was a mistake, as they were only chosen for that occasion.

Assault and Battery.—An information was made yesterday against Thomas [illegible] before Alderman Taylor for assault and battery. The prosecutor was William [illegible].

Its Weight.—The total weight of the fire alarm telegraph bell, after its crown, clapper and other appliances are attached, will be nearly ten thousand pounds.

Jimmy Hamill Challenged.—W. Jackson, it is said, has challenged Jimmy Hamill to row a five mile race over the Monongahela course for one thousand dollars.

Counterfeiter Arrested.—A counterfeiter by the name of Laporte, alias Travellin, was arrested in Cameron county last Friday.

Accident.—Mr. [illegible], of Grahville, had his leg broken last Monday by being thrown from his carriage.

Jail Delivery.—The jail at W[illegible], Pa., is now empty, and the Sheriff is enjoying a good time.

Pleasant.—It rained, snowed and hailed, at Cadiz, Ohio, last Friday. Nice place, that, to live.

DENIAL OF REPRESENTATION.

The Conservatives keep up a prodigious clamor about what they are pleased to denominate the denial to the people of the Southern States of representation in Congress. In the strong colors of fervid imagination they represent these people as meekly knocking at the National door, and humbly imploring the recognition of their just rights. The portraiture is drawn with such pathos as to move the sensibilities of people who are swayed more by their feelings than their judgments.

These people are confessedly on the outside of the door, or they would not be pleading to get inside. How came they outside? This question goes to the very marrow of the case. No man will pretend that they were thrust out. The utmost claimed is that by the exercise of the right of free discussion on the part of some of the Northern people their position, inside was rendered uncomfortable. What business had they to be made uncomfortable by the exercise of an undoubted and inestimable privilege by some of their fellow citizens? Did they really constitute an aristocratic class before whom other people were bound to sink their rights, and forego the use of them? Mr. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS, of Georgia, is one of those who are trying to get in. He made a pilgrimage, recently, all the way to Philadelphia, to see if something could not be done to open the door in a way satisfactory to his pride. Just as Mr. STEPHENS was going out, five years ago, he made a speech of great celebrity. In it he declared that neither he nor they who were following him had any proper reason for going; that the whole movement was unprovoked—in violation of law and right. He told the simple truth. The stampede was democratic, and was executed with such momentum that it swept along unwillingly most of the Southern people who were not democrats. All the willows were certainly bowed. Only the gnarled and giant oaks stood erect. What had the democratic party to complain of? For fifty years it had dominated in the national councils. At no time, in that long period, had all three of the co-ordinate branches of the government been against it. Seldom had it lost the President or both branches of Congress. The laws, as they stood on the statute books, were written there by democrats. The policy of the nation, for good or evil, was steadily a democratic policy. Whatever was well done the democrats were mainly entitled to credit for, and whatever was done badly they were mainly censurable for. The party of the minority had only exercised a restraining and modifying influence, powerful indeed, but not substantive. If the South was wronged through the action of the government, it was wronged by the Democrats. But it was not wronged. The grievance of the Southern Democrats was that they could not domineer over the thoughts, and opinions, and utterances of Northern men. The quickening sensitiveness of Northern consciences to the crime and shame of slavery was held to be an abomination. When the Republicans beat the Democrats at a Presidential election, the unpardonable sin was committed. The Democrats had come, in the arrogance of continued success, to feel that the government belonged to them by prescription, and that their opponents, so far as related to political affairs, were only hewers of wood and drawers of water. Hence, they held defeat to be humiliation. The Southern section rushed out of the door, slamming it behind them. The Northern section wanted to go, but as they had none of the State governments in their power, they failed to find a way out. Nor four long and dreary years the section that was out, battered away at the door, the windows, and the walls, trying to demolish the whole superstructure. The section that was in, hindered the defence in all possible ways. So intense was their rage they were willing to run the risk of being crushed by falling beams, and roofs, and walls, if they could only bring on a general smash up.

Over in the Western Penitentiary are a crowd of men who have so managed as to get outside the pale of political society. They are denied representation in Congress, and participation, in all other ways, in the affairs of government. They are ready to "accept the situation;" and in as good faith as Mr. STEPHENS and his set. Why do not the Conservatives bewail the harships to which these culprits are exposed? Why do they not get up a National Convention, and promulgate a Platform of Political Orthodoxy applicable to their case? It is easy to see that slight modifications in expression would adapt the Philadelphia resolutions to this purpose. Why not?

Perhaps some conservative will meet us here with a stern rebuke for comparing the Southern rebels to common criminals. This exception may be well taken; but if allowed, another question will come up, which is, to whom shall apology be made—to the rebels or the convicts?

We do not discourse this way for love of badinage. Did not ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States, declare that "Treason is the highest crime known to the laws? Surely that man ought to be good authority with the Conservatives. But, if they are not willing to allow weight to anything he uttered before his great apostacy, let them open the statute books of the nation, and see what is written on this point. By those books Mr. STEPHENS is a bigger criminal than any horse thief, counterfeiter, or burglar in the Western Penitentiary. Is the judgment of these books true or false? Is an act any the less a crime because many are concerned in it? Surely it is time to come back to elementary principles, and in the light of them regulate our course.

The demand is reasonable that crimes shall not be condoned except upon satisfactory evidence of penitence. We are content that all crimes shall be forgiven on that basis. Once satisfy us that any criminal in the Penitentiary had heartily repented of his faults, not because of the punishment to which it subjected him, but because it was in itself an evil and an abominable thing, and we would open his prison doors and let him go free, if the high prerogative of pardon pertained to us. In like manner would we deal with rebels. Most of the conservatives virtually maintain that treason is no crime, and, hence, entails no penalties and works no forfeiture. With such we do not stop to reason. Some of them, however, profess that the rebels have repented, and so ought to be taken back into fellowship. If they believe the repentance genuine, then they ought to act accordingly. But, we do not so believe. The evidence before us does not work any such conviction. Shall we be concluded by those in whose verdict we do not agree? The mass of the men who stood by the Government in its greatest peril do not see sufficient evidence of genuine repentance. Shall they be overborne by rebels and sympathisers with such? Surely, it remains the rule of justice and safety that the loyal men of the nation shall control its destinies.

THE ELECTIONEERING TOUR.

President JOHNSON, accompanied by some members of his Cabinet, together with Gen. GRANT, Admiral FARRAGUT and others, set out on Tuesday morning, ostensibly to go to Chicago to be present at the laying of the corner stone of the monument in honor of the late Hon. STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS. It was perfectly proper that the President of the United States should have been invited to be present on that occasion, and it was equally proper that he should accept the invitation. So far all is right enough, and it is all right that the chief commanders of the army and the navy should accompany him on such a mission, and unite with him in doing honor to the memory of a departed statesman.

But that such a pilgrimage should be turned into an electioneering tour; that the high and distinguished character and deportment which the incumbent of that exalted office ought to maintain in the presence of his countrymen of all parties and opinions should be laid aside, and those of the partisan and demagogue assumed, is a spectacle calculated to sicken and disgust all right-minded men, be their opinions what they may. His conduct has been such, even on the first evening of his excursion, as to render it impossible for men who have any self-respect to pay those honors to the chief magistrate of the Republic, in his person, which they have ever been accustomed to pay. Look at the report of his reception in Philadelphia. A crowd gathered in Chestnut street, in front of the Continental, attracted, doubtless, by various motives and feelings—many really desirous, it may be, of doing honor to their country in the person of him who happened, for the time being, to be its chief. It was evident that they did not expect a speech. They did not, so far as the account goes, call for one. Very likely the majority did not want one, or if they did, they felt that it would be grossly indelicate to make him a stump orator on such an occasion, and on such a mission. But as the telegraph informs us, "the crowd, perceiving that the President was about to address them, surged to and fro, and moved closer, if possible, to the hotel." He was charged with a speech and must let it off. The opportunity was too good to be lost. And such a speech! The President was forgotten; STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS was forgotten; all was forgotten but ANDREW JOHNSON and "my policy" and my party. It was from first to last simply the outgiving of a partisan and a demagogue—an appeal to the baser passions of his auditors, interlarded with studied insults to better men than himself.

We have said that ANDREW JOHNSON, by his course, has rendered it impossible for the people to show those honors to their Chief Magistrate in his person, which they have ever been accustomed to pay, irrespective of party; and hence our City Councils did right in refusing to pay him any civic honors should he see proper to pass this way. They knew the man. They knew that if he came here he would be very likely to insult the majority of our citizens, for he seems to have no idea of the common proprieties and decencies of life, much less of the dignity of the high station which he unfortunately occupies.

One poor comfort may be drawn from all this, and that is, that a man so blatant, so destitute of ordinary discretion, is not very dangerous; and that conduct so outrageous will prevent him from getting a strong hold upon the hearts of any but the coarsest, the vilest, and the most disloyal of the people.

—Many of our readers will remember the great meteoric shower of November, 1833, which was visible through North America. These meteoric showers are said by astronomers to be periodical, returning at intervals of about thirty-three years. Professor Newton, of Yale College, who has devoted much time to the investigation of the subject, states that a similar phenomenon will probably occur about the 13th or 14th of November next, and so confident are astronomers that it will then appear, that extensive preparations are being made by scientific men in Europe to observe it. But thirteen appearances of meteoric showers are recorded since the year 903.

—The work of rebuilding the city of Charleston engages the attention of her authorities and citizens. The scheme proposed contemplates the issue of seven per cent. coupon bonds, guaranteed by the city, to the amount of two millions of dollars, to owners of lots who desire to build, in such sums as shall be most effectual in affording them aid within specified limits. It restrains the borrower from the erection of buildings of wood, and provides that no building less than two stories high shall be erected.

—A dispatch from Chicago states that the Masonic Fraternity allege that President Johnson should not lay the corner-stone of the Douglas monument. Being exclusively a Masonic affair, they say it should be done by a Grand Master, and suggest Mr. J. R. Gorin. If he is allowed the honor they refuse to participate in the ceremonies.

—The devoted parents of a Columbus, Ohio, young lady, furnished her with a splendid wardrobe for a trip to New York, in order to save her from the addresses of an objectionable young man. Miss packed up the dresses, and afterwards packed off with the young man who had been paying the addresses.

—"EXTREMES MEET," said some one to Gen. Butler, alluding to the fraternization of Gov. Orr and Gen. Couch in the Philadelphia Convention. "Yes," replied Gen. Butler, "and so they do when a dog bites his own tail—but both extremes belong to the same dog."

—General Rosecrans has been appointed to the charge (with substantial interest) of some very rich and valuable quartz veins in Mariposa county, California, and he is busy making preparations to work them. His associates are men of large means.

—The City Council of Portland has voted to pay $100,000 for the land bounded by Congress, Pearl, Federal, and Franklin streets, to be laid out as a public square.

GENERAL NEWS.

—Squirrel suppers are rife in Concord, N. H.

MT. AUBURN
YOUNG LADIES' INSTITUTE.

This School has just concluded its tenth year. Its HISTORY has been one of prosperity and growth from the commencement. The last two years the daily average attendance has been over two hundred, and many have been refused for want of accommodation.

A NEW BUILDING

Is now under contract, to be ready for occupancy at the opening of the Fall Session in September, and it is hoped that hereafter all can be received as pupils who apply.

The LIBRARY, APPARATUS AND CABINET are receiving yearly, valuable additions, and the purpose is kept steadily in view, to furnish every facility for a thorough course of instruction.

The Faculty consists of four male and eleven female teachers, all thoroughly qualified for their several departments.

The School is fully graded from the Preparatory department, through the entire course of Academical and Classical studies.

Meeting of the Union Executive Committee.

The Secretaries of the County Executive Committee of the Union Republican party should extend a common courtesy of notifying all the reporters of the press when a regular or special meeting is to be held. We had no notice of the meeting held on Tuesday, and hence our report of the proceedings is a day late. Again, it is the duty of the Secretaries to furnish the loyal papers of the city with a list of any appointment the Committee may make, so that the public may be kept posted in a matter of so much importance. We trust that we shall either hereafter be notified of the meeting of the County Committee, or that the Secretary will furnish us with an abstract from his minutes. Here is the report of the proceedings of Tuesday's meeting:

John W. Riddell, Esq., Chairman of the Union Executive Committee of Allegheny Co., presided.

C. C. Taylor reported that arrangements were being made upon a liberal scale for a grand mass meeting at McKeesport on next Saturday night.

Captain E. A. Montooth and Captain Samuel Harper were made members of the Executive Committee and the Committee on Meetings and Speakers.

The following additional Vigilance or Sub-Committees, for the various districts, were reported:

Sixth Ward, Pittsburgh—Dr. A. G. McCandless, Chairman; J. M. Brush, Wm. Culp, John Wallace, J. Y. McLaughlin, Charles Jeremy, G. H. Thurston, J. P. Tanner, John Rebman, John Little, Jr., W. F. Rich Gifts Wax Poor, &c.

Jennie Lamont appeared before Alderman Lynch yesterday, and made oath against Frank Bell, for assault and battery. Jennie it seems formerly held a high position in the affections of the pugilistic Frank, and during their days of courtship, Frank gave her, with his love, a handsome set of jewelry, with which to adorn her already bewitching person. Days and weeks and months were spent in billing and cooing, and finally Frank determined to consummate his oft repeated vows of love at the altar. But unfortunately for the peace of Jennie, he had determined on making another lady, named Lizzie Somers, the happy bride. A certain poet has said, that "hell has no fury like a woman scorned," and no doubt Frank believes the assertion; for Jennie, in a terrible passion, called at his boarding house on Grant street, and after giving him a good scolding, she threw his gifts into the street and told him to follow them if he choosed, adding, in the words of Ophelia, "they ain't worth anything if you don't love me." Instead of following his trinkets or Jennie's advice, he shoved the latter into the street in such a rude manner, that the lady was forced to check all the kindly feelings entertained for Frank in the past, and enter suit as stated. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Francis.

Extensive Fire at Altoona.

On Monday night, an extensive fire occurred at Altoona, resulting in the total destruction of the Altoona House, owned and kept by Richard McLain; the Exchange Hotel, owned and kept by Messrs. Woods & Johnston; a frame dwelling and two store rooms, owned by C. Jaggard, the dwelling being occupied by J. S. Mann, and one of the storerooms by B. Wolf's clothing store, the other storeroom being unoccupied. Among the other sufferers are Samuel Smith, jeweller; William Nesbit, barber; Conrad Beam, saloon keeper. The losses and insurance, so far as we could ascertain, were as follows: Richard McLain's loss, $18,000; insurance, $9,000. Woods & Johnston's loss, $15,000; insurance, $9,000; C. Jaggard's loss, $3,500; insurance, $1,600. Adams' Express Company occupied a room in the Altoona House building, but their property was all saved. The fire originated in the stable of the Exchange Hotel. It is supposed that it was caused by the carelessness of a huckster who was stopping for the night, and was in the stable with a lantern.

Accident and Death.—On Tuesday night of last week, a young man by the name of David Gordon, a citizen of Connecticut, met with a terrible death at the coal wharf of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at West Huntingdon. It seems that he was stealing his way on a freight train, and when the train stopped to coal the engine, he got off and secreted himself to escape the observation of the hands on the train, and when the train started, in attempting to get on he fell upon the track, and before he could extricate himself several cars passed over him, cutting off a leg and an arm, and otherwise injuring him. He was taken to the railroad station where he died a couple of hours afterwards.

From Pittock.—We have received from the indefatigable Pittock, opposite the Postoffice, the September number of Gody's Lady's Book. It contains the usual amount of good reading matter. "Resting at the Well," a steel engraving on the first page, is alone worth the price of this Magazine. The fashion plates are also up to their usual standard of excellence. We also acknowledge receipt of an amusing caricature of the Philadelphia Convention, which Mr. Pittock has for sale.

Acting Mayor.—Our good looking friend, Alderman E. S. Morrow, of the Eighth ward, is at present Acting Mayor of the city. Mr. McCarthy is suffering from an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which prevents him from exercising the functions of his office.

Special Caution.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has become so popular that various parties have put out articles calling them Mrs. Winslow's. Please take notice that the Mrs. Winslow of the Soothing Syrup is not connected with any other article. jy11:d&w

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

FROM NEW YORK.

No New Cases of Cholera in New York or Brooklyn—Fenian Matters—How Affairs were Managed During the O'Mahoney Reign—The Convict Revolt at Sing Sing—News from the South.

NEW YORK, August 29.—There are no new cases of cholera to report in either Brooklyn or this city.

The Fenians of this city have determined not to take part in the ovation to the President to-day. They will pursue their usual avocations, and the headquarters will be open as usual.

An address was issued yesterday to the Irish women of America, by the Committee of the Fenian Sisterhood. They call for contributions and donations for Irish prisoners in Europe.

A report showing up the financial affairs at the Moffatt Mansion, as they were found upon the resignation of Colonel O'Mahoney, has been made public. The report contains a full list of the officers of the O'Mahoney branch of the Fenian Brotherhood, their respective salaries, showing that of the Head Centre to be $2,000; five Cabinet Officers, $1,500 each; Private Secretary of the Head Centre and ten other officers of the Civil and War Department, $1,200 each; seven Clerks, $800 each; Porter, $300; Messengers, from $500 to $720; four members of the Central Council, five dollars per diem and expenses, and twenty-three other military officers and organizers who receive from $70 per month, with expenses paid, up to the salary of a General.

It appears that since January sixth, 1866, the sum of $35,728 in money has been sent to John Mitchell, in Paris, and bonds representing $30,000 additional. Up to April the amount spent in sending officers to Ireland was $600. Refugees in New York during three months, received $10,223,58; the secret service account, from January 10th up to April 19th, foots up $13,330,67. The total outlay for three months, including suspended drafts, is set down at $185,289,25, and the Treasurer makes his books balance with the three items—cash on hand, suspended drafts and receipts of money. The economy of the Moffatt mansion, including organizing and contingent expenses, foots up during the three months $104, 402 564.

Details of the attempt to break jail at Sing Sing, on the part of a number of convicts, on Monday, state that there were thirty of them engaged in it. The leader, Edward Stafford, was killed; three others severely or mortally injured, and two others slightly wounded. One of the guards was hurt by a stone, and another died from disease of the heart after the fight was over, occasioned by the excitement he had undergone.

Florida reports state that the crops are nearly ruined by continued rains.

Six men were arrested on Saturday in Choctaw county, Alabama, for attempting to murder a colored family by poisoning their spring of water. They were seen in the act, and on complaint to the military authorities were arrested.

The drouth continues throughout Central Georgia, and the cotton crop will be almost a total failure.

Sales of real estate at Augusta, Ga., last week amounted to $131,000.

Large quantities of counterfeit greenbacks, made at Memphis, are in circulation in Georgia. They are so well engraved as to defy detection in nine cases out of ten.

INDIAN DEPREDATIONS.

Fight at Fort Reno—Troops Attacked, Stock Stampeded, and Other Depredations Committed—Fears of a General Outbreak—Massacre by Indians in New Mexico.

LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS, Aug. 28.—A fight has taken place near Fort Reno, where the Indians drove seventy-eight head of Government mules from Colonel Carrington's camp. They were followed by mounted men. The Indians turned upon the pursuing party, killing seven, wounding two, and escaping with all the stock. A party of officers and recruits going to the Eighthteenth United States Infantry, were attacked at Powder River, and two men were killed in the attack. The Indians did not succeed in stampeding the stock. They have attacked several trains since then, and killed four men and wounded many more. The redskins are around Fort Reno, firing on the pickets the whole night.

The Indians hold the whole country except the military camps. The Sioux stole a herd of horses within one mile of the Fort, and a lot of Government mules. Troops were sent in pursuit, but they could not overtake them. On the 5th of August, they stole another herd of horses, four miles east of Reno. There is evidently a general outbreak among all the tribes on the plains, and the attacks made upon the frontier settlements of Kansas cause great consternation, as there are no troops here. Six hundred Indians made their appearance near the northern line of Utah Territory on the Holliday stage line, creating a great panic among the settlers in that vicinity.

The Denver News has the following: The Indians have returned to the vicinity of Fort Garland, New Mexico, and are now engaged in the indiscriminate massacre of all the Mexican inhabitants they can find.

Capture of Counterfeiters—Fenians Going East.

CHICAGO, August 29.—Detective Phillips has made a haul of counterfeiters, and captured in Mattoon fifty thousand dollars in counterfeit greenbacks and several thousand genuine. John A. Miller, the chief of an extensive gang of counterfeiters and burglars, who hold forth in Joe Davies county, was yesterday brought to this city under arrest, his plans having been unearthed and fully discovered by a detective from this city.

A large body of Fenians have left here for the East.

The Holliday Overland Mails and Express have moved their office to this city.

Crops in Canada West—Holiday in Honor of the Atlantic Cable.

OTTAWA, C. W., August 28.—The rot has attacked the potato crop in the Ottawa country owing to the late continual rain. The oat crop is also a good deal damaged. These two products will be scarce here during the coming winter.

To-day is observed as a public holiday at this capital, in honor of the laying of the Atlantic cable. The holiday is not general throughout the provinces.

Cholera in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, August 29.—There were twelve deaths from cholera reported in this city yesterday.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

WEDNESDAY, August 29, 1866.

There being no regular session at the stock exchange in New York to-day, in consequence of the reception extended to President Johnston, the quotations for gold and bonds were irregular. Gold is reported weak and a shade lower, 148¾@148½; 1881s, 113⅝; 5-20s of '64, 113; old 5-20s, 113⅝@113½; 5-20s of '65, 109⅞; 10-40s, (large) 103¾; do small, 102½; 7-30s, 106⅝@106¾.

The principal feature in the market for government bonds to-day was the sudden advance in 5-20s of 1864, and a brisk demand for the same bonds of 1865. The demand for money is rather more urgent, but the banks will soon be in condition to discount more freely, since there are large sums being realized from the sale of government securities.

—The impression prevails in some quarters that the future course of the money market will be toward greater ease, and business men of experience are of opinion that the plethora of loanable funds for some time to come will be so largely in excess of the demand, that rates of interest will be lower than they have ever been before; and furthermore, that it will be impossible for banks and money-lenders to use their surplus funds in loans at any rate, and that they will be forced to buy Government or other securities in order to earn interest on their money.

—The following comparative statement shows the average condition of the leading items of the Philadelphia Banks for the past and previous week:

	Last week.	This week.
Capital	$14,642,150	$14,642,150
Loans	48,530,454	48,591,763	Inc.	$61,3[illegible]
Specie	811,250	805,071	Dec.	5,15[illegible]
Legal-tend'rs	19,863,686	20,412,323	Inc.	[illegible]
Deposits	36,942,311	36,025,288	Dec.	[illegible]
Circulation	9,566,783	9,573,534	Inc.	6,75[illegible]

There is no very marked change in the leading items of the statement from those returned last week.

—The prospect for steadiness in the gold market is not very flattering, if we may credit the comments of some of the New York papers upon the subject. The Herald says:

> It is evident that a strong combination has the market completely under its control, and the demand for custom duties can only be supplied at the price it is willing to sell at. This demand is rather heavy, owing to the large importations which are still being made and the increasing activity of trade, the requirements for custom duties at this port to-day, for instance, having aggregated $624,000. The "short" interest is at the same time enormous, both in and out of Wall street, and just now the "shorts" are at once the strength and victims of the "bull" conspirators. It is idle to denounce the latter, however, for their influence is trifling. They find their capital in the actual state of the market, and if legitimate conditions were not in their favor they would lose money by their operations. They are now merely anticipating and temporarily aggravating a natural condition of the market, which would only be made ultimately worse by the Treasury selling a portion of its gold; for, in that event, speculators would absorb all that the Government disposed of, and fortify their position accordingly.

—The Bank of Montreal, according to a Montreal journal, has consented to accept the conditions of the Canada National Currency act, and will assume the whole of the issue of $8,000,000 of notes authorized by that act, and also take a further sum of $1,000,000 in debentures should the government need such. By this arrangement it is expected that an end will be put to the crisis.

—Says Tuesday's New York Tribune:

> The payment of the temporary loan, except Clearing-House certificates, which are redeemable in legal tender, places the Treasury in a stronger position than it has held for a long time, but it may not leave permanently the money market to the public. Having nothing of temporary debt to pay for some time there is every reason to expect that the Treasury will form its excess of receipts over expenses accumulate currency in its vaults, and in that way have a conservative effect upon speculators. Gold and currency promise to accumulate to an extent to be felt by borrowers, and the Secretary will be in a position to take active though indirect steps in funding the currency debt. He will be able to hold the funded debt at a price when conversions of currency debts into it will be constant, and in such amounts as to make it certain that all the 7-30s will take that direction speedily. The Secretary has now power to dabble in government stocks, and steadily get short into long debt, and can make at will an easy or tight money market by his manipulations of the debt. While he is working off to specie, as he silently is, borrowers of money will be upon unsafe ground.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, August 29, 1866.

The produce market continues quiet and a little dull, the operations in the leading commodities being of an unimportant character, while so far as prices are concerned, there are no changes worthy of special notice.

APPLES—Continue very dull, and the supply is largely in excess of the demand, and prices are unchanged, ranging from $1,50 to $3 per bbl, as to quality.

ASHES—The demand is improving, and while there is more activity, prices remain unchanged. Sales of 20 tons common Soda at 6; also, sales of Refined ditto at 6½, and Pearls at 15.

GRAIN—There is a fair demand for Wheat, and we can report sales of 3 cars new No. 1 Chicago Spring at $2,25. Oats dull and nominal at 43 to 45, on track and in elevator. Sale of 2 cars Western Rye at 92, and 200 bushels Shelled Corn at 78. No movement in Barley.

FLOUR—Is reported steady, with a fair local demand at $11 to $11,50 for Spring, and $12,50 to $13 for Winter. Sales of "White Star"—half Spring and half Winter—at $12. Rye Flour and Cornmeal unchanged.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged at 17½c@17¾c for Shoulders; 19½c@20c for Ribbed Sides; 23 to 23¼ for Plain Hams, and 25 to 26 for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is quiet and unchanged 22 to 22¼ for kettle. Small sales of Mess Pork at $33,50.

PIG LEAD—Is selling at 12.

POTATOES—In good supply and dull; may be quoted at 75 to 80 per bushel.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in demand, but there is none in market, except what is in the hands of crushers. Timothy Seed is coming in more freely and prices are drooping. Clover Seed is nominal at $7 to $7,50.

BUTTER—Ordinary packed is selling at 24 to 25, while prime fresh ditto is quoted firm at 28 to 30.

EGGS—In good demand, and fresh packed sell on arrival at 20.

CHEESE—Is firm but unchanged at 15 to 16 for Western Reserve; 16 to 17 for Hamburg, and 21 for York State Goshen.

MILL FEED—Is scarce and in demand. Bran may be quoted at $1 to $1,10; Shorts $1,30 to $1,40; and Middlings $1,75 to $1,85.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, August 29, 1866.

CRUDE—The market for Crude continues quiet and rather dull, though prices remain unchanged, and we continue to quote at 16½ to 17, bbls returned, and 21 to 21½, packages included. Sales of 200 bbls at 17; 300 at 17; 40 at 16¾; 55 bbls (Smith's Ferry) at 21, packages included, and 1000 bbls for all October, seller's option, at 17. The demand is mainly for immediate delivery, buyers generally being averse to making contracts for future delivery at present quotations, in view of the fact that the demand for Refined is less active, and the tendency downward, and holders are anxious to sell at quotations being a little apprehensive, that a resumption of navigation, and large arrivals, might possibly break down the market. We have no late advices from Oil City, but the eastern markets are reported quiet and unchanged.

REFINED—There is no improvement to note in the demand for bonded oil, and while the market is a little dull and weak, prices as yet, are pretty well maintained. On the cars here, quotations may be fairly given at 38¼ to 39, and 45 for immediate delivery in Philadelphia. Thus far, this week, the transactions in bonded oil have been very light, and the general tone of the market cannot be regarded as favorable for holders, notwithstanding as yet, there has been no "break-down" in prices. The recent "flurry" was almost entirely speculative, there being no foreign advices to back it up, and this being the case, some of our shrewdest and largest operators are pretty sanguine that the tables will be turned and that, too, before many weeks elapse. Already it is hinted that contracts are being resold in Philadelphia at a slight decline, which does not augur well for the future.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil reported today were as follows:

Fisher & Bro.	246	J. Gallagher	257
T. McMichaels	199	S. Harbaugh & co.	286
Jas. Wilkins	128	J. Gallagher	128
J. E. Strickler	311	Barbour & Co.	165
J. Darragh	52	Waring & King	55

Cincinnati Seed Market.

CINCINNATI, August 27.—The receipts of timothy are increasing, and being considerably in excess of the demand, prices have steadily declined, and are now fully $1,50 per bushel lower than at the date of our last weekly summary, and at the decline the demand is limited, the market closing heavy with a fair downward tendency. Prime samples are now offered at $3,75, and we understand some purchases have been made as low as $3,50. Clover remains dull, and prices are merely nominal. Prime qualities are held at $7,75@8, but the demand is limited. Choice samples of flaxseed, that which is entirely sound and free from dust and other foreign matter, command $3, this price being paid by parties who are purchasing for Eastern houses. The crushers are not paying more than $2,50, and a considerable portion of the receipts are sold at this price, as there is comparative little coming forward that is up to the standard by those who are buying on Eastern account.

Flour and Grain in Store in Chicago.

The following table, compiled from the official reports of the warehousemen to the Secretary of the Board of Trade, shows the amount of Flour and Grain in store in Chicago on the 25th inst., compared with the amount in store on the same day last year:

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

New York Financial Matters.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Money continues easy, at 4@5 per cent. for call loans. Sterling dull and heavy, at 106¾@107. Gold without decided change, opening at 148¾, advancing to 148⅞, declining to 148⅝ and closing at 148½. Governments firm and quiet. Freights to Liverpool quiet.

The Commercial Advertiser's money article says: Business in Wall Street is almost wholly suspended on account of the President's visit to the city. The only important exception is on Government securities, which have been excited and very active. Old 5-20s have sold at 1 13½@1 13¾ and at noon were quoted 1 13⅝ bid, and 1 13¾ asked; 1864s were in active demand, and sold up to 1 13⅝, and at noon were quoted at 1 12@1 13. The advance arose from a report that the bonds had been admitted on the London Exchange. It was owing to the fact of the street losing faith in the report that the bonds declined during the morning from 1 13⅝@1 12. There are very active speculative movements in the bonds here which may also help to account for the circulation of the report. Purchasers of 1864-5s have been made by parties short in 1862, in the hope that the rise in the former to sympathy with the high prices of 1862s would compensate for their loss upon the latter bonds of 1865 are quoted 10⅜@109⅞. 7-30s are stronger. First series being quoted at 1 07¼ and second and third 1 06¾. In the general stock market there were some insignificant transactions on the street. Erie was most active, touching at one time 74¼, and subsequently declining to 73⅝@73¾. Gold has been quiet during the morning at 1 48¾@1 48½. Loans were made at 1 1-32 per cent.

The Post's money article says: Money is easy at 4 per cent. Transactions in gold were active in the early part of the day, but towards noon sellers were coming forward. The rate on loans of gold ranged at from ⅛@—. No interest. In Railroad shares there were but a few transactions. The Stock Exchange being closed, the latter quotations were: New York Central, 104; Erie, 73¾; Hudson, 118¾; Reading, 115; Michigan Southern, 85¼; Illinois Central, 123⅛. Foreign Exchange stagnant. Bill at sixty days on London, 105@106 for commercial.

Chicago Lumber Market.

CHICAGO, August 27.—The receipts of lumber by the cargo were light, and with a good demand, prices were fully sustained. The sales to-day include the following:

80 m, ¼ strips, balance mixed, at $19,25; 6250 pcs lath at $4,25; about 60 m long sawed timber at $24; 100 m joists and scantling at $1[illegible]; 180 m, ½ strips, at $22 for strips, and $17,50 for balance 80 m ¼ strips, balance mixed, at $18,50; 30 m lath $4,12½; 370½ m sawed shingles at $5,20; 160 m ¼ strips, balance boards and joists at $17,12; 40 m lath, poor, at $4; 50 m mill run, from good logs at $21; 50 m gang sawed board, good common, at $19.

Chicago Cattle Market.

CHICAGO, August 28.—The fresh receipts of beef cattle to-day at the Union Stock Yards are 994 head. There is little change to note in the market. Stock Steers have been in good request, and several lots were sold. There are no first class cattle in the yards, and shippers are doing nothing to speak of. A lot of 192 Texan cattle arrived this morning, but the sales have been light, and the market is very quiet at the close.

RIVER NEWS.

The river remains about stationary at this point, with thirty inches in the channel by the pier marks last evening. The weather continues cloudy and unsettled, with occasional showers of rain.

There has not been a solitary arrival or departure aside from the regular packets since our last report, and the levee presents a very gloomy and deserted appearance. Hopes are entertained that we will have a rise within a very short period of time.

Quite a number of new boats are being pushed forward to completion in a quiet way at this point. The Ezra Porter, a new sidewheeler for the Red River and New Orleans trade, is almost furnished, as is also, the Belle Vernon. Capt. Hare is pushing forward a very substantial and commodious stern-wheeler, is intended, we believe, for the Pittsburgh and St. Louis trade. The hull for Capt. W. B. Donaldson's mammoth steamer will be ready to launch within a few weeks. When completed, Capt. Donaldson will doubtless have one of the finest, if not the finest steamer on the western waters.

The W. H. Osborne passed Memphis on Friday last with a big trip. One of her deck hands died between Cairo and that point, and was buried at Madrid Bend.

The St. Louis Republican, of Tuesday, says:

At sundown last evening the following steamers were at the landing between the Carr street Ferry and Plum street Depot, receiving freight and passengers for various points, viz: Lotus No. 2, Bertha, New Sam Gaty, Isabella, Deer Lodge, Ben. Johnson, Marcella, Glasgow, Peter Balen, Marble City, Goldfinch, Mollie Able, Lizzie Gill, Beardstown, Zephyr and Big Horn. The following steamers are "laid up" between the Elevator and foot of Mulberry street, viz: Jennie Lewis, Ontario, Mary Davidge, Helen Lexington, Southerner, Mary McDonald, G. W. Graham, Lillie Martin, Platte Valley, Julia, J. G. Blackford, Bee, Canada, Stonewall, Albert Pearce, Kate Kinney, Comet, Schuyler, City of Pekin, Mexico, Viola Bella, Little Rock, R. L. Woodward, Montana Helena, Huntsville, Will. S. Hays, and Governor Sharkey. The following is a list of the boats "laid up" at Bloody Island, viz: Waunanita, Camelia, Tallisman, Lady Franklin, Evening Star, Columbia, Delaware, American, Champion, Iron City, Minnie, Submarine No. 13, J. D. Perry, City of Alton, P. W. Strader, Columbian and Rubicon.

In addition to the above there is quite a number "laid up" above the Elevator, and a whole fleet down about the "docks," and at Carondelet. Most of the steamers "laid up" are being overhauled, repaired and painted preparatory to the fall business.

The Louisville Journal of Tuesday says: The Stella left last night with a tow of empty barges for Pittsburgh. As she left she had her flag at half-mast, because of the death of her captain, long a resident of this city, Capt. A. B. Churchill, aged 46 years. He had been ill only a short time. A congestive chill was the cause of his death. He was extensively known along the river as one of the best and most experienced of all those engaged in towing coal below. His death will be deplored by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

The Cincinnati Commercial of Tuesday, has the following:

The crew of the Arabian, being alarmed about the cholera, jumped the boat at Wheeling, where she was laying at last accounts.... Messrs. Rose & Robinson, yesterday, contracted with J. C. Buckles & Co. for the transportation of 207 tons of sugar, coffee, rope and bagging, for Little Rock, Arkansas. The Minneola and Naugatuck will get the freight.

The Gazette, of the same date, says:

The Arabian, which left Pittsburgh on the 16th, for this port, has been detained at Wheeling on account of the prevailing epidemic. The Amelia Poe left the Eureka docks yesterday. Capt. R. H. Porter is somewhat annoyed at being advertised as R. J. Porter, who is numbered with the dead.
